Reviews

Definitely one of the better book We have possibly read. We have read through and i also am certain that i am going to gonna study once again yet again in the foreseeable future. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Excerpt: . . . publication of this work was not succeeded by the applause which had followed that of all my other writings. Never did a work obtain so much private praise; never did any obtain so little public approbation. What was said and written to me upon the subject by persons most capable of judging confirmed me in my opinion that it was the best as well as the most important of all the works I had produced. But everything favourable was said with an air of the strangest mystery, as if there had been a necessity for keeping this good opinion a secret. Madame de Boufflers, who wrote to me that the author of the work merited a statue and the homage of mankind, at the end of her letter desired it might be returned to her. DAlembert, who in his note said that the work was decisive of superiority, and ought to place me at the head of all men of letters, did not sign what he wrote, although he had signed every note that I had before received from him. Duclos, a sure friend, a man of veracity, but circumspect, although he had a good opinion of the work, avoided mentioning it in his letters to me. La Condamine fell upon the Profession of Faith and wandered from the subject. Clairaut confined himself to the same part, but he was not afraid of expressing to me the emotion which the reading of it had...
