E39 2005 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)63038897 Subject: Industrial hygiene -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ly, OSHA has already recognized the need for compliance assistance, and Secretary Chao, in my opinion, is to be commended for a vision and leadership in this regard. The cooperative strategies that have been implemented in the past 5 years, we are beginning to see positive results, and result is all that really counts, the bottom line far fewer people or more people being made safe and healthy by what were trying to do. Thats the whole point of all of this. In March 2004, the Government Accountability Office, GAO, evaluated these results in a study of voluntary compliance and found that safety improvements were being made by companies involved in OSHAs compliance programs, programs that have contributed to the safest workforce in our nations modern history. Indeed, one of the key recommendations from GAO during the course of its study was to urge Congress to gather more data on the utility of the voluntary compliance programs. It is my hope that we can begin that process...
